

Township Planning Commission

Copies of the Livingston Township Comprehensive Plan, now named the Township Master Plan, in compliance with the state's Enabling Act, are available at the Otsego County Library in Gaylord. Also as required by the Enabling Act, the Township Master Plan is updated with contractual assistance from the Gaylord NEMCOG office. A new and separate component is the township's Recreational Plan which was approved in February 2013. The current Master Plan sets forth the short and long term goals for development and growth in the Township. The Plan follows the recommendations compiled from a survey of Township residents. The highlights include the following: precluding industrial development and severely limiting commercial growth as well. It promotes the preservation of forest lands, agriculture, and open space. The Plan promotes industrial development in the Air Industrial Park and commercial growth in areas properly zoned.
